Instant checks at a glance – in the original packaging or not?

tesa reveals the security of your logistics.

With a tesa tamper-evident seal, you can instantly tell whether a consignment is still in its original packaging as it passes through the various stages in the distribution chain and arrives intact at the consignee. Any tampering with the consignment easily becomes obvious.

This allows you to identify weak points in the logistics chain, so the necessary measures can be taken.

Securely sealed pallets using tesa® 64008 tamper-evident sealing tape.

When the tape is removed, the inscription »OPENED« appears.

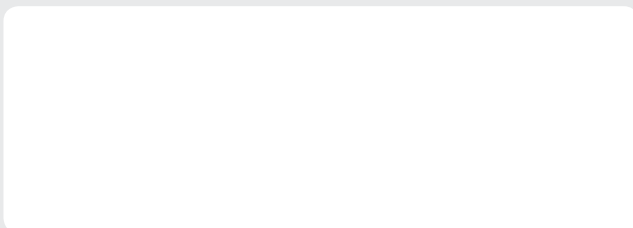

The inscription remains clearly visible even if the consignment is resealed.
